LEARN THROUGH EXAMPLE AND ACTION

Develop knife and processing skills while learning concise methods and hacks for ease in adding whole, local produce to meal offerings and lunch lines

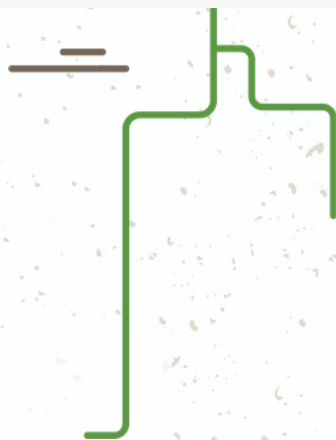

Learn from successful Illinois programs how indoor and outdoor garden programs can connect to food service, the classroom and at-risk kids in your school community

Learn proven methods to incorporate local and garden foods into meal patterns for k-12, early childhood and boarding facilities

Write a plan to incorporate local foods, garden produce and food education into your current program and create a 2-year growth outline to further your farm to school efforts

Locate local foods, discover funding sources, and learn to develop community partnerships to create a sustainable program

Registration starts at 8:15 with morning java provided.

Light mid-day meal will be provided.

This is a free educational event provided with funding from the JR Albert Foundation and the IL Charitable Trust Stabilization Fund.
